

Another Milestone Aircraft Sale for Boutsen Aviation

Principality of Monaco, March 31, 2016 - Boutsen Aviation is pleased to announce the sale of the Falcon 2000 - s/n 226 (manufactured in 2006), representing the 320th aircraft transaction to date for the Monaco-based company. Additionally, it is the second aircraft delivered to an Indian customer, demonstrating the growth and development of Boutsen Aviation's worldwide customer base.

The sale was led by Timothée Marcie, who joined Boutsen Aviation in 2015 after having worked for Dassault Falcon Jet in Eastern China. As Sales Director for Northern then Eastern China, he was responsible for all new Falcon product sales in the region. Over the past year, Timothée's aptitude has further developed while working in the European market.

The combination of high level of expertise with irreproachable ethics and a highly dedicated sales team has led to a success rate of 95% over the course Boutsen Aviation's 19-year history. Founder and Chairman Thierry Boutsen relates the importance of teamwork within the company, and how it has contributed to the success of the company and the satisfaction of its customers :

“In my career as a Formula One Driver, I have discovered the importance of working with a highly professional team, capable of achieving the best results. Today, the core of our reputation lies in our team of experts who understand that an advisory and personalized approach is something both our sellers and buyers expect...”

Boutsen Aviation is attending EBACE 2016 from 24-26th May.
